The Mace

The mace, originally a weapon of combat, has been associated with civil academic ceremony from at least the fourteenth century, and has undergone considerable modification as its ceremonial use gained importance. The university mace is a symbol of power, authority and official presence.

Academic Regalia

The pageantry and dress of the academic procession are inherited from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries. Academic life as we know it began in the Middle Ages, first in the church and later in the teaching guilds, where dress was the outward sign of privilege and responsibility.

Principal features of academic dress are the gown, cap and hood. In 1884, American universities agreed upon a definite system of academic dress, which was revised in 1932, and for the most part reflects the style of today.

While it originally may have been worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings, the flowing gown today is a symbol of the democracy of scholarship. The gown is black for all degrees, with pointed sleeves, closed at the bottom, and the arm of the wearer is placed through an opening in the front of the sleeve. For the doctorate degree, the gown also is faced down the front with velvet, and its sleeves are trimmed with three bars of velvet in the color representative of the faculty or discipline to which the degree pertains.

The academic cap is a sign of freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity that scholarship endows to the wearer. In the year's ceremony, the color of the students' tassels and cords denotes their grade point average level.

The hood is trimmed with one or more chevrons of a secondary color on the ground of the primary color of the college. The color of the facing denotes the discipline represented by the degree; the color of the lining designates the college or university from which the degree was granted.

Undergraduate Academic Honors

The practice of granting honors for superior scholarship at the time of graduation is centuries old and well established in the universities of Europe prior to the founding of the United States.

Through the early 1940s, New Mexico Highlands University granted recognition for scholarship by faculty recommendation. Lists of outstanding students were prepared by each academic department. The Committee on Scholarship then combined these lists and granted recognition to those students who were recommended by two or more departments. At that time, the words, "With Honor," were included on the diploma.

College and School Banners

In the late 1940s, the University changed its procedure to more closely match that of many other institutions. Eligibility for honors at graduation is determined by cumulative grade point average, and three levels of achievement are recognized. The diploma carries the Latin phrase that acknowledges this achievement. The categories are: Cum Laude (with honors), to those with grade average of 3.50 to 3.69; Magna Cum Laude (with high honors), to those with a grade average of 3.70 to 3.85; and Summa Cum Laude (with highest honors), to those with a grade average above 3.86.

The banners carried in the processional represent the University's colleges and schools and bear the colors traditionally associated with various disciplines.

Ms. Dolores Huerta
Commencement Speaker

Dolores Huerta is president and Founder of the Dolores Huerta Foundation (DHF) and Co-Founder of the United Farm Workers of America. She is a celebrated Latina labor leader, activist and community organizer. She has worked for civil rights and social justice for over 50 years. In 1962 she and Cesar Chavez founded the United Farm Workers union. She served as vice-president and played a critical role in many of the union's accomplishments for four decades.

In 2002, she received the Puffin/Nation $100,000 prize for Creative Citizenship which she used to establish the Dolores Huerta Foundation. DHF connects community-based organizing to state and national movements to register and educate voters; advocate for education reform; bring about infrastructure improvements in low-income communities; advocate for greater equality for the LGBT community; and create strong leadership development.

Early Life

Dolores Clara Fernandez was born on April 10, 1930 in Dawson, a mining town in the mountains of New Mexico. Her father Juan Fernández, a farm worker and miner by trade, was a union activist who ran for political office and won a seat in the New Mexico legislature in 1938. Her mother, Alicia Chavez was an independent business woman. She owned and ran a 70 room hotel. Dolores spent most of her childhood and early adult life in Stockton, California where she and her two brothers moved with their mother, following their parents' divorce.

Personal Life

Huerta was married twice and had a long term relationship with Richard Chavez, the brother of César. She has 11 children and many grand and great-grandchildren. Most of her children have dedicated themselves to public service.

Honors

Dolores is a two-time US Presidential Award Recipient; she received the Medal of Freedom Award from President Obama in 2012, the highest civilian award in the United States, and the Eleanor D. Roosevelt Human Rights Award from President Clinton in 1998.

She has received many other awards including Mexico's Order of the Aztec Eagle Award (the highest decoration awarded by the Mexican Government to foreign nationals), the James Smithson Award from the Smithsonian Institution, the Icons of the American Civil Rights Movement Award, bestowed to her in 2011 by the National Civil Rights Museum. Huerta is a U. S. Department of Labor Hall of Honor inductee and she was the first Latina inducted into the National Women's Hall of Fame. She is a former UC Regent and has earned honorary doctorates from universities throughout the United States.

New Mexico Highlands University
Cowboy Fight Song

Cowboys the best in the West-Land
Cowboys for you we stand
Proudly, we praise and honor
The Cowboys of the University we yell for
Purple and White we are waving
Win or lose, we're there
Cheering for Cowboys,
Cowboys loyal we'll always be
To Highlands University

Congratulations and best wishes
