

State Certified Classroom Teacher

Special Education Services, an affiliate of The Menta Group (www.thementagroup.org), serves severe social-emotional and learning disabled students in the far suburbs of the Chicago Metro Area and Phoenix/Casa Grande, Arizona. Our expanding program development and student population demands our hiring additional teaching staff. All 12 of our programs post their open teaching positions on our website, and feature an easy-to-complete application process.

SES educational services are intended to meet both the developmental and individual learning needs of each student. Classrooms are designed to be active learning environments where young people have the opportunity to experience educational and behavioral success on a daily basis. Clinicians are available to address the social-emotional struggles that high risk students frequently encounter. Whenever possible, clinical interventions are integrated into daily educational activities so that students are exposed to pro-social skills when such skills are most relevant to success in the classroom within a safe and positive environment for young people to grow and learn.

- State Certified Teachers, and a willingness to take identified classes working toward special education endorsement/approval/certification to teach required subject matter to Special Needs Students.
- Ability to teach a self-contained classroom within all basic instructional areas.
- Ability to work a regular school day and the ability to work with youth with emotional/behavioral/academic difficulties.

Park Forest Academy and Country Club Hills Technology and Trade Center, members of The Menta Group, serve severe and profound behavior disordered high school students living in the surrounding southern suburbs of Chicago. Our expanding student population demands our hiring additional teaching staff for the remainder of this year, summer, and /or into next year. Both programs are considered alternative safe school for students who are at-risk of suspension or expulsion resulting from special education emotional and behavioral service problems that interfere with their learning needs.

The schools' curriculum and credit earning system are aligned with local district schools sending students to this program thus allowing for seamless transitions from and to the students' home schools. PFA & CCH were established to positively impact the academic and social-emotional competencies of students referred to the program, and offer a variety of school-to-work options for older special education students. The school's modern facilities, talented administration/staff encourage young people to learn in an ideal academic setting for adolescents who are preparing to become both literate and self-sufficient. High school teachers are needed for 7-12 grade part of the program serving no more than thirteen students per classroom with a teacher assistant and a very structured classroom based upon clear expectations.

Qualifications:

State certification in secondary education in high school English, History/Social Sciences, Mathematics, Science, Consumer Education, and Vocational/Job Skills.

A willingness to work toward achieving State of Illinois emergency approval in special education with assistance from TMG.

Teachers with State of Illinois special education certification (LBS1) are encouraged to apply.

Ability to teach a self-contained classroom within all basic instructional areas Ability to work a regular school day and the ability to work with youth with emotional/behavioral/academic difficulties.

Employment is contingent upon a background check, employment physical and drug screen.

Bi-lingual applicants are encouraged to apply.
