

At NMHU, co-curricular activities are defined as out-of-class experiences that complement and extend the formal learning experience of a course or academic program. Co-curricular activities develop a student's social, intellectual, cultural, democratic, civic, and aesthetic domains. They are supervised and/or financed by the institution and facilitate the attainment of NMHU's four essential traits (or student learning outcomes). These experiences are voluntary, ungraded, and non-credited, although they may be compensated through student employment.

Four identified traits/student learning outcomes that the NMHU community of faculty, students and staff identified that our graduates are expected to display:

- Mastery of content knowledge and skills
- Effective communication skills
- Critical and reflective thinking skills
- Effective use of technology

Intended Audience: the natatorium employs work study students as lifeguards. The lifeguards work with the natatorium director to provide a supervised aquatic program to NMHU students, faculty, and staff, as well as community members in Las Vegas, NM.

Please include data on student utilization of the program over the past year (be sure to include online and Center students if part of your intended audience).

In fall 2016, 12 work study students worked as lifeguards. During the fall semester, 3,449 persons used the swimming pool. This includes 1,616 students, 508 faculty and staff, 1171 community members, and 154 persons in groups. During the fall 2016 semester, the City of Las Vegas' swimming pool was closed for renovation. This increased our usage.
