Board of Regents Report

Acknowledgment of Regent Vigil (Attachment A)

President Minner read a proclamation honoring Regent Vigil. Regent Vigil thanked the Board and administration for their leadership and commitment to Highlands. Chairman Sanchez recognized that Regent Vigil was prepared for every meeting and was knowledgeable on subject matter. Regent Marchi commented that Regent Vigil was always prepared to make informed decisions at meetings. Regent Marr-Montoya remarked that it was a pleasure serving on the Board with Regent Vigil.

Person's Wishing to Address the Board

- Dr. Orit Tamir, Anthropology professor at NMHU since 1997, addressed the Board with concerns regarding the lack of shared governance while developing the Academic Affairs organizational structure proposal that Dr. Gonzales presented to the faculty at the general faculty meeting and the last senate meeting. There was no attempts to discuss the reorganization with faculty and staff. She discovered that secretaries were unaware about the discussion and are concerned about their jobs. Dr. Tamir feels that the Faculty Senate was left out of the process in the development of the Academic Affairs organizational restructuring proposal.

Chairman Sanchez asked Dr. Gonzales to respond. Dr. Gonzales informed that the Deans are still meeting with their teams and data are still being collected. She stated that the reorganizational structure is a proposal. Faculty will meet in the spring and provide their feedback to the administration. She feels that the reorganizational structure is being vetted.

- Dr. David Sammeth, Faculty Senate Chair, stated that the Faculty Senate did not assign faculty to the committees therefore, co-governance was not followed. Dr. Sammeth reported that three primary issues arose at the Faculty Senate meeting held on December 12, 2018. Number one the proposal was not developed through shared governance. Secondly, faculty do not believe the reasons behind the proposed re-organization are sound and see the proposed structure creating more problems. Third, the process appears to be a top down process where administration formed the committees and that faculty were handed a finished product. The Faculty Senate feels that the committees involved a lot of faculty time and that their hard work did not appear in the final product. The proposed changes do not address the challenges NMHU faces which are: funding; enrollment; internal processes that could be far more efficient; effective support of scholarships and research; and meeting the demands of the main campus, centers, and online learning face.
- Dr. Jennifer Lindline, Professor of Geology in the Natural Resources Management Department, addressed the Board regarding academic quality, which includes offering substantive classes; regular advisement of students; providing open and accessibility to our students; and the provision of a variety of co and extracurricular activities. Dr. Lindline feels that HU currently offers synergistic activities; interdisciplinary programs; innovative classes; and aligned majors, all of which have happened very organically. In her opinion, the proposed reorganization will erode these synergies.
- Dr. Kathy Jenkins, Professor of Exercise Physiology/Faculty Association President/Co-President of the Faculty and Staff Association/member of the Faculty Senate and a member of the executive team of the Faculty Senate, addressed the Board. She feels that the restructuring proposal does not address increasing enrollment and retention. She feels that the faculty were given a list of reasons for restructuring, none of which seems to be linked through data or scientific process to suggest they would work. During the Faculty Senate meeting, Provost Gonzales assured that no faculty or staff would be losing their positions during the restructuring. Dr. Jenkins said that reductions in force have to go through the Collective Bargaining Agreement and the Faculty Handbook by declaring financial exigency or by elimination of positions people held before. Dr. Jenkins said she co-chaired an ad hoc committee that reviewed documents and articles provided by Dr.

Gonzales. The ad hoc recommended no change be made to the current structure. In Dr. Jenkins opinion, the data reported to Dr. Gonzales was misrepresented at the Faculty Senate meeting. She knows that the ad hoc committee is not the deciding body and are only making recommendation but the committee demands to be heard. The committee recognized that more focus should be on grants and contracts, fixing the website, and improved communication from the provost.

- Dr. Michael Petronis, Full Professor of Geology at NMHU for 12 years, approached the Board to discuss research. Dr. Petronis feels that HU needs someone to work with faculty to write grants and alert faculty of available grant opportunities.
- President Minner informed the Board that during last year's budget hearings, which were presented to the faculty several times, it was announced that more resources would be allocated to improve the website and more staff members to assist Mr. Sean Weaver, Director of University Relations, manage the website. Funding for an external consultant was also allocated. The consultant will be on campus to meet with faculty, staff, students, and administration to determine website needs.
- Mr. Robert Anaya, NMHU-Santa Fe Center Coordinator, addressed the Board. Mr. Anaya commented that he and a friend, currently the Principal of Taos High School, attended HU. They have both done well in their careers due to the education they received at Highlands. He is thankful for the approachable and personable faculty that provided structure and guidance during his undergraduate and graduate coursework. He thanked Ms. Thomasinia Ortiz-Gallegos, Registrar, for hiring him at the HU-SF Center where he had the opportunity to help students navigate their way through school to receive their degrees. Mr. Anaya noted that HU was recently on academic probation and that he can attest that HU leadership assembled the appropriate team to ensure Highlands was removed from HLC probation. President Minner had the foresight to appoint Dr. Brandon Kempner, a direct representative of the faculty senate, to spearhead the accreditation detail. President Minner offered an extension for administration and faculty to work together. He said another example of the administration reaching out to faculty was when they recognized the value and merit in Dr. Ian Williamson and appointed him as the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. Dr. Williamson is also a former member of the faculty senate. He thanked Dr. Sammeth for visiting the centers to learn more about their processes and needs.
- Regent Marchi commented that he is glad discussions are taking place. He agreed with Mr. Anaya that HU handled the HLC accreditation in a great way. We now have a more transparent budget process, etc. and can now concentrate on recruitment and retention. Regent Marchi reminded everyone that President Minner created four task forces. The task forces were looking at athletics, student affairs, business administration, and academic affairs. Mr. Max Baca, Vice President of Finance & Administration, made some revisions and improved his area in a positive way. The next task force is Academic Affairs. Dr. Gonzales was asked to review academic affairs the process. He added that he does not disagree with many of the statements made today but feels that HU our educational model needs to keep up with the changing environment. He asked that the matter be vetted and that a proposal that everyone agrees on be brought to the Board.
- Regent Marr-Montoya agreed with Regent Marchi stating that the proposal is in the planning stages and that the faculty and administration need to work together

- Chairman Sanchez encouraged everyone to work together to pursue an agenda that is inclusive and productive and for the benefit of the institution.

President's Report – Dr. Sam Minner

- The university received internal approval and Higher Learning Commission (HLC) approval on the Alternative Teacher Certificate Program. The MFA program launched this fall. This is the second new program approved in approximately 19 years as per Dr. David Sammeth. He commented that it is not acceptable to be a higher education institution and only add two new programs to our offerings.
- He attended the first pre-construction meeting this week. The project is running smoothly. He is adamant that the project will not go over budget.
- A team of faculty and administrators visited Georgia State University to learn about their retention model. Dr. Roxanne Gonzales provided a written report on their findings. One of the main items discovered is that they are pro-active in retaining students who have dropped out with one semester left to graduate. They reach out to them and offer them funding to pay for their final semester. Secondly, GSU spends a lot on analytical tools. Dr. Gonzales submitted a budget request, for FY19-20, to help improve our retention rates.

Council of University Presidents (CUP) Update

Last week CUP met with members of the Legislative Finance Committee to express several concerns. CUP is requesting 8% of new money and a 5% increase for compensation increase for employees. The New Mexico Higher Education Department's recommendations are a 2% new money and a 4% compensation increase.

- Ms. Peoble reported that a student senator voluntarily took a survey regarding online schooling. The survey will be brought to the Board when it is finalized.
- The student body President at Luna Community College, Mr. John Noel, attended an ASNMHU meeting. The ASNMHU and Luna student governments are collaborating to host an event. She feels that LCC is a resource for student recruitment.
- Students have requested ASNMHU funding for their national exam fees and leadership conferences.

Faculty Senate Report – Dr. David Sammeth

- Dr. Sammeth reported that he along with all New Mexico faculty senate chairs and/or presidents were solicited to join Governor-Elect Lujan-Grisham’s transition team on higher education. Each representative of the various institutions were given several minutes to express their views. All agreed that the number one issue for the faculty is faculty salaries. The second top driver is the state mandated common core, which seems not to acknowledge the diversity of each institution. The third area of concern is the selection and vetting of board members.
- The visit to Georgia State University was very beneficial and informative, he is thankful that he had the opportunity to participate.
- He visited the Rio Rancho and Farmington Centers and met with faculty and students to understand how to better serve our students at the centers.
- Faculty are not opposed to structural organization change but are concerned about how the process was handled. The consensus idea is to ask his colleagues, administration, and the staff to make decisions based on a common direction.

Regents requested a copy of the Georgia State University visit report prepared by Dr. Gonzales.

Chairman Sanchez asked if students attending HU at the centers are eligible for scholarships through the Foundation. Dr. Terri Law responded that all NMHU students are eligible to apply for Foundation scholarships. Scholarships are awarded if students meet all required criteria. She is working with donors to ensure that the 12-15 credit hour requirement is not an obstacle for center students. Most students taking courses at the centers do not take a full course load.

Dr. Sammeth added that the Farmington and Rio Rancho students had different positions on the $75 fee Campus Life Initiative fee. They do an excellent job in Farmington offering pizza, ice cream, and movie passes on a first-come first-serve basis. They also offer passes to the local workout facility. Some like how the initiative is handled but an equal number do not understand why they have to pay the fee.

Comprehensive Discussion: Proposed Academic Affairs Organizational Restructuring – Dr. Roxanne Gonzales

President Minner recognized that there are several different ways to approach an academic affairs reorganization. Currently there are many institutions reorganizing their academic affairs units throughout the nation. He stated that he welcomes the discussion and looks forward to moving the university forward.

Dr. Gonzales presented the Academic Affairs reorganization proposal (Attachment C). She emphasized that the restructuring is a proposal. She informed that she has received feedback from the School of Business, School of Social Work, and School of Education. Deans met with their faculty and some faculty have visited her office providing recommendations.

Response from Faculty Senate

Dr. Sammeth stating that he collected faculty comments some were:

- the reorganization is a solution looking for a problem
- a Dean's duties can be addressed without a reorganization
- a proposed reorganization before strategic planning seems like an odd time to propose
- we are a small university which does not require layers of administrators
- we need to develop a model which centers faculty voices are not layered
- issues identified by the provost can be addressed without major reorganization

President Minner noted that with the current structure in place, HU has only added two new programs in approximately 19 years; enrollment continues declining; and HU was placed on HLC probation. Administrators, faculty and staff need to do better. He added that we need to look for common ground and be committed to improving outcomes by putting the best path forward.

Regents requested the list of faculty comments read by Dr. Sammeth.

Regent Vigil motioned to amend the agenda by moving item 13. Executive Session before items 11. Higher Learning Commission Update and 12. Academic Affairs. Regent Marchi seconded. Voting in favor: Regent Marchi, Regent Marr-Montoya, Regent Vigil, and Chairman Sanchez.
